Change in GAP Management Effective January 1, 2019

We are very pleased to announce that the Georgia Association of Pathology (GAP), effective January 1st, will be managed by WJ Weiser & Associates, Inc. (Weiser), located in Schaumburg, Illinois. WJ Weiser & Associates is a full service association management firm servicing over 50 medical specialty and subspecialty societies on the international, national, regional and state levels. Of particular interest their current clients include the Georgia Urological Association, in addition to a number of state and regional urology, pathology, endocrinology and rheumatology societies. For more information on WJ Weiser & Associates, you may visit their website at www.wjweiser.com.

The Georgia Association of Pathology (GAP) will begin its association with Weiser with a dynamic set of initiatives specifically designed for Georgia pathologists. With an ardent commitment to serving the Georgia pathology community, the GAP will place new emphasis in these and other areas:

- An efficient and effective operating structure for the GAP
- Being a forum and a voice for Georgia pathologists
- Establishing new commitments with Georgia pathologists by creating valuable member benefits
- Building the membership of the Association
- Creating and developing programs that will increase non-dues income
- Increasing exposure to the organization and its new member community
- Developing a substantial internet presence for the GAP's members and the pathology community at large

The Georgia Association of Pathology looks forward to a successful and productive partnership with WJ Weiser & Associates, Inc.

Sincerely,
Matthew R. Fries, MD
President, GAP
